

South Brisbane and West End Parish Newsletter

The Word of God became flesh and dwelt among us, and we saw his glory.

It was when I became a priest that I started looking up Christmas poems. Since then it's been a tradition that I'd share a new Christmas poem in the newsletter every year. This one comes from a famous martyr priest, Robert Southwell who wrote many more poems but this one stands out to me. It's called 'Burning Babe.' Since there's also an unspoken rule about experiencing art and letting it speak to you personally, I'll avoid explaining it, but I will say Merry Christmas, and may this season be filled with joy at the birth of our Lord.

As I in hoary winter's night stood shivering in the snow,
Surpris'd I was with sudden heat which made my heart to glow;
And lifting up a fearful eye to view what fire was near,
A pretty Babe all burning bright did in the air appear;
Who, scorched with excessive heat, such floods of tears did shed
As though his floods should quench his flames which with his tears were fed.
"Alas!" quoth he, "but newly born, in fiery heats I fry,
Yet none approach to warm their hearts or feel my fire but I!
My faultless breast the furnace is, the fuel wounding thorns,
Love is the fire, and sighs the smoke, the ashes shame and scorns;
The fuel Justice layeth on, and Mercy blows the coals,
The metal in this furnace wrought are men's defiled souls,
For which, as now on fire I am to work them to their good,
So will I melt into a bath to wash them in my blood."
With this he vanish'd out of sight and swiftly shrunk away,
And straight I called unto mind that it was Christmas day.
